One Year

Scotch Oakburn College welcomes international students who are seeking a safe, supportive and enriching Australian school experience.

One Year Study Abroad

A full year to belong, grow and discover life in Tasmania

The complete Scotch Oakburn Study Abroad experience

The One Year Study Abroad Program offers students the most complete Scotch Oakburn College international experience.

Over one full school year, students become part of the College community. They experience academic learning, boarding life, co-curricular activities, outdoor education opportunities and the wider rhythm of school life in Australia.

A full year gives students time to truly settle, belong and grow. It is an opportunity to build strong friendships, strengthen English, develop independence and experience life in one of Australia's most beautiful and supportive school communities.

Why Tasmania?

Tasmania is a safe, welcoming and naturally beautiful place to study.

With clean air, open spaces, friendly communities and easy access to nature, Tasmania offers international students a calm and supportive environment for learning, wellbeing and personal growth.

In Launceston, students can experience Australian school life in a regional city that feels connected, safe and easy to settle into.

At Scotch Oakburn College, students experience more than an education. They experience Tasmania — a place to learn, belong and grow.

Safety, care and wellbeing

The annual program is a significant commitment, and student wellbeing is central to the experience.

Scotch Oakburn provides a supportive environment where students are cared for by boarding staff, teachers, pastoral care staff and wellbeing structures. Students are encouraged to seek help, build relationships and develop confidence over time.

For families, this program offers the reassurance of a structured school community where students are known, supported and encouraged to grow.

Why choose this program?

A full year gives students time to experience the full rhythm of Australian school life.

Students can build strong friendships, make meaningful progress in English, participate in school activities and develop independence through daily school and boarding routines.

Over twelve months, students will experience:

- A full Australian school year
- Mainstream classes and subject learning
- Boarding life across the year
- Co-curricular participation where available
- House events and College traditions
- Outdoor education and Tasmanian experiences where available
- Stronger English communication
- Greater academic confidence
- Personal growth through routine, challenge and support

Belonging across the full year

Boarding gives students a stable and supportive home base throughout the school year.

Students share meals, study routines, evening activities and weekend life with other students. This helps them develop friendships, independence and everyday English confidence.

Boarding is not just accommodation. It is a key part of the learning and personal growth experience.

Where accommodation is required during extended breaks, homestay may be considered in some circumstances, subject to availability, welfare requirements and approval.

A full year of learning, English advancement, belonging and growth in one of Australia's most beautiful and supportive school communities.

Future pathways

For some students, the annual program may become a pathway to longer-term study at Scotch Oakburn College.

Future enrolment is considered separately and depends on academic suitability, English progress, visa requirements, availability and College approval.

English language

Students do not need advanced English to begin, but they should be ready to work consistently on their English throughout the year.

A full year provides the strongest opportunity for English growth through daily immersion in classes, boarding and College life. The College considers each student individually, including their English background, school reports, age, maturity, motivation and future goals.
